

Delegates of the Advisory Panel:

The crucial elements that hold the Advisory Panel together are knowledge sharing, collaboration and the technical analysis that allows delegates to explore pressing global issues from multiple perspectives. The Advisory Panel was established in Model United Nations conference with a purpose to serve as a space for participants to act as witnesses, stakeholders and specialists making it unique from other traditional committees. This is why the Advisory Panel is such a main component of AMMUN, as it gives a platform for delegates to step into real-world roles, look at new perspectives, and suggest practical solutions that have an impact on today's world.

The Advisory Panel guides delegates to a deeper understanding of global issues, as it encourages them to think critically and ask strong questions. This committee focuses on fostering meaningful discussions, thrives on cooperation as the panel depends on the delegates ability to share expertise and find common ground through debate.

This year's AMMUN theme is "Deliberate to Liberate". This theme plays an essential role for the Advisory Panel as it emphasizes on the importance of fragile decisions and thoughtful consideration in order to achieve freedom from economic, social and humanitarian problems faced globally. Delegates are ordered to keep this theme in mind when participating in debate in order to ensure that their proposed resolutions are innovative, practical and truly aligned with the best objectives of liberation through deliberation.

As AMMUN is a THIMUN-affiliated conference, there are high expectations for participants, especially the delegates. The delegates of the Advisory panel are highly advised to carry out thorough research beforehand to fully understand the assigned topics allowing them to partake in arranged and thought-provoking debates while staying in line with the rules of procedure. Delegates are expected to approach issues with an open mind while thinking innovatively to come up with impactful resolutions that can sensibly be implemented. We expect delegates to keep respect and formal tones throughout the conference to anyone who may enter or is part of the committee. We assure you that the chairing panel is ready to work with all delegates and guide them throughout the conference in order to help guide them through the sessions to participate in interactive debates.

Jana Aburagheb,

President of the Advisory Panel.
